The High School Students

Dedication

We, the Alba annual staff, dedicate this edition of the "Albamo" to the Seniors of yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

This book is in memory of the thrills of that last year when class meetings and elections, even the routine of classes, took on an added value in the anticipation of events to come.

Furthermore, entwined in our memories is the excitement of Senior week when the banquets, teas, and commencement services took place, when the Seniors wore their caps and gowns in the joyful thought of graduating and when they felt a wistfulness, regretting to leave the school and friends they knew so well.

If in years hence, a graduate of A. H. S. glances through this year book and remembers more vividly his days in high school, our efforts in its publication will have been rewarded.

W. Glenn Allison

As the 1948 Albamo goes to press, no executive has been selected by the school board to take Mr. Allison's position.

Many and varied are the changes that have been made in the Alba schools since the day Mr. Allison accepted the position as superintendent. His fine job of coaching has brought to the basketball teams the praise and respect of the district.

Because of his cordial personality, his kind and soft-spoken temperament, his insatiable interest in the general welfare of the Alba school system and all its activities, his total understanding and fairness in dealing with the every day problems confronting him, his sterling quality as an educational administrator and a gentleman, we, the students, wish to express our gratitude and sincere appreciation.

Class Will

We, the Senior class of 1947-48, being of sound mind and body, do hereby draw up and seal our last will before departing from our beloved Alma Mater.

I, Paul Heger, will my position as chief ballyhooer to Max Page.

I, Dick Howard, will my fondness for the girls to Junior Gunlock.

I, Melvin Dale, will my love for studies to anyone who wants them.

I, C. A. Watts, will my ruddy complexion to Wayne Bailey.

I, Joyce Bowman, will my position on the pep squad to anyone with the ability to fill it.

I, Barry Sidney, will my crooning ability to Don Witherspoon.

I, Don Moss, will my personality to Jerry Miller.

I, Bette Passley, wish to keep my intelligence but give my books to anyone who wants them.

I, James Heger, will my loud laughter to Melvin Rector.

I, Ginger Cook, will my characterization as mother and grandmother in the plays to Charlene McClanahan.

I, Nadine Witherspoon, will my genial smile and pert vivaciousness to Beverly Williams.

I, Glenna Ferris, will my poise and calmness to Bessie McClanahan.

I, Iva Jane Russell, will my shorthand to Esther Dale.

I, Phyllis Silvey, will my quiet ways to Patte Miller.

I, Bettie Jo Long, will my ability to play softball to Myrtle Vaughn.

I, Dorothy Scott, will my dimples to Pauline Heisten.

I, Gary Woodmansee, will my lazy ways to Kenton Boyer.

I, Maxine Maples, will my love for the Cardinals to any one who is as good a fan as I am.

I, Jack Patton, will my position on the basketball team to Bill Dodson.

I, Lucile Hargadine, will the divine beauty of my voice to Mickey Betebenner.

I, Ida Mae Edwards, will my expressive, appealing eyes to Mary Lois Edwards.

I, Ardell Moore, will my job as score keeper at the basketball games to anyone who can handle it.

The foregoing instrument, was on the date above, given, and in our presence signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Senior Class, testators named therein, as and for their last will and testament whereupon we, at their request, and in their presence and in the presence of each other have hereunto subscribed our name and address.
